

Sexuality rights for people with intellectual disabilities

The right to grow up, i.e. to be treated with the respect and dignity accorded to adults

The right to know, i.e. to have access to as much information about themselves and their bodies and those of other people, their emotions, appropriate social behaviour, etc. as they can assimilate

The right to be sexual and to make and break relationships

The right not to be at the mercy of the individual sexual attitudes of different care-givers

The right not to be sexually abused

The right to humane and dignified environments

Ann Craft (1987)

